MURDERED HIS ERRING WIFE

FEARFUL PUNISHMENT OF INFIDELITY BY A JAPANESE AT HONOLULU.

HILLO, July 17.—A Japanese whose name could not be learned committed suicide at Honolulu on Monday after killing his wife. The couple had not been living together owing to another man in the case. The woman had gone away with him and the wronged husband put in much of his time since her departure tracing the runaway couple. O Sunday he learned of their presence at Honolulu Plantation where it is believed her new found friend was employed as a laborer. He followed and found her in one of the camps and after a long talk, in which it is supposed he tried to persuade her to return to him; he reproved her, then drew a knife and before she could procure assistance in answer to her calls for help, he cut her throat from ear to ear. Finding that the woman was dead he turned the knife upon himself, cutting his throat and falling dead. Nothing is known of the couple at Honolulu. The man was not employed there nor was the woman. An inquest held by the deputy sheriff resulted in a verdict in accordance with the facts.
